

Comodactylus ostromi

A single, complete wing metacarpal with typical rhamphorhynchoid shape. The specimen came from Como Bluff, Wyoming, USA. Unwin suggested (in Bennett 1993) that Comodactylus was probably a type of Nesodactylus

No image

Galton P. M., 1981, A rhamphorhynchoid pterosaur from the Upper Jurassic of North America. J. Paleont. 55, 1117–1122. 2 text figures.

Bennett S. C., 1993, The ontogeny of Pteranodon and other pterosaurs. Paleobiology 19, pp. 92–106.