

Petraichnus saltwashensis

Pterosaur tracks

Salt Wash Member, Morrison Formation,
Carrizo Mountains, Arizona, USA.

No Image

This ichnospecies was considered by some to be crocodylian in origin before many pterosaur tracks had been identified, but is now generally accepted as pterosaur tracks.

Stokes W. L., 1957, Pterodactyl tracks from the Morrison Formation. Journal of Paleontology, 31:952–954.

Logue T. J., 1977, Preliminary investigation of pterodactyl tracks at Alcova, Wyoming. Wyoming geol. Ass. Earth Sci. Bull. 10 (2), 29–30.

Padian K. and Olsen P. E., 1984, The fossil trackway Pteraichnus: not pterosaurian, but crocodylian. J. Paleont. 58, 178–184.

Logue T. J., 1994, Alcova. Wyoming tracks of Pteraichnus saltwashensis made by pterosaurs. Geol. Soc. Am. South Central Section Abstracts 26, 10.